

Employers: we want you!

Rehab's aim is to extend our successful business model of employing people with disabilities to the wider business community. We currently have a number of trained people with a mixed skill base ready for employment and we are looking for employers to recruit or contract people with disabilities into a variety of positions across all business sectors.

Benefits of employing people with disabilities:

- Access to motivated people who offer your business flexibility in achieving your business goals
- Increased staff awareness of disability issues can help to improve customer service
- Enhanced reputation as a progressive and inclusive employer
- Proactively promoting disability in your workplace can attract potential investors and new customers by demonstrating your company has an interest in people within your community
- Reduced staff turnover due to enhanced staff morale
- Improved customer service experience
- Access to a variety of State-funded supports and subsidies

How Rehab will support you:

- Our personnel will assist you in the recruitment, selection and induction process of people with disabilities
- Rehab offers a support structure to help integrate employees into your business either as full-time permanent employees or as Rehab-contracted employees
- We will provide Disability Awareness Training to new and existing staff members across your business
