COUNTY KERRY EMERGED triumphant in the National Rehab/Powers Whiskey Pub Quiz in November. Kerry took the crown after beating off rivals from around the country in a closely-fought contest which tested the participants on the topics of general knowledge, history, sport, TV and film, music and current affairs. The final took place in the Portlaoise Heritage Hotel and was hosted by RTÉ personality Micheál O'Muircheartaigh. Each member of the victorious team won €500 as well as the prestige of being part of the brainiest pub quiz team in the country.

The competition took place in a staggering 350 pubs nationwide last October with the winning team from each county going through to the national final. The quiz was organised by the Vintners' Federation of Ireland (VFI), and sponsored by Powers Whiskey, with all proceeds going towards the further development of Rehab services nationwide.

Pauline Crowley, Head of Marketing, Rehab, says, "The Rehab/Powers Whiskey Pub Quiz was a fantastic, fun way of raising much-needed funds and marked a welcome return by Rehab to the national quiz nights that were so popular during the mid-1980s. Congratulations to the winning team from Kerry and to all the teams nationwide who entered this year's competition. We look forward to seeing them all again next year!" ■
