

Hey, Gorgeous!

TBG Learning's courses are looking more attractive than ever with the opening of its new beauty salon "To Be Gorgeous".

Pictured above: At the launch of the new nail and beauty salon, "To Be Gorgeous", at TBG Learning in Tendring are (back row, left to right) learners Keisha Duly, Leanne Carr, Opal Wakeling, Josie Grindrod, Mavis Balbirnie, Tutor Alex Gray, Learning Centre Manager Rob Fitt and (front row, left to right) learner Sammy-Jo Robinson, Councillor Peter Balbirnie, Chairman of Tendring District Council, and learner Emma Marshall.

BASED AT TBG LEARNING'S centre in Clacton-on-Sea, the salon is used to train young people in practical skills for the beauty industry. The centre is the most successful local provider of the Entry to Employment (e2e) programme for 16 to 18-year-olds and the new salon, officially opened by the Chairman of Tendring District Council, Councillor Peter Balbirnie, is giving young people a new option, which also includes literacy, numeracy and computer skills. He was even treated to a pampering session of his own by students during his visit.

Speaking at the opening, the Chairman said, "The new nail and beauty facilities are excellent and the current learners seem to be thoroughly enjoying the course."

Keisha Duly, one of the students who is spending one day per week learning skills including facials, manicures, massage and waxing, said, "I thought I would enjoy this type of thing but now I've tried it, I know I do!"

The e2e programme in Clacton has helped hundreds of local young people to build their skills and confidence before progressing into further education, apprenticeships or employment.

TBG Learning's core objective is to improve lives through learning and in a further extension of its service to young people has recently opened two new centres in Southall in West London and West Bromwich in the West Midlands.

The new Southall centre was officially opened by local MP, Virendra Sharma, and the West Bromwich centre by the Mayor of Sandwell, Councillor Gurcharan Singh Sidhu. ■

Who to contact

For further information please contact:

Rob Fitt
Learning Centre Manager,
Tendring
TBG Learning

0044 1255 430 053
rfitt@tbglearning.com